

ESL 350: Professional and Academic Writing Skills (for international graduate students) Monday & Wednesday 3:30-4:20 pm

- ❖ Designed for international graduate students working on writing projects in their own fields, such as dissertations and theses, research reports, or articles for publication. In addition, general academic writing skills, documentation, and genre-specific style are covered.

- ❖ What former ESL 350 students have to say about the course:
  - “This course is great for graduate students. I would recommend this class to other international students.”
  - “Great course for graduate students! I learned a lot and got valuable feedback on my manuscripts. Thank you for everything!”
  - “I think the class was very informative with very good explanations of the concepts we were learning and how it applied to our fields. The teacher was an excellent instructor.”

- ❖ Credits: 2. Prerequisite: Graduate status.

- ❖ Note: Dissertators need their advisor’s permission to enroll.